How to Order Tasks under this BPA – Program Office use of this BPA for programmatic, technical and engineering requirements saves DOE/NNSA time and money. The BPA provides a simple ordering process under this contract as reflected by the process provided below. The maximum number of proposals government personnel/evaluators will have to review for a Task Order solicitation is seven. This BPA enables program offices to order services at a discounted rate from the MELEMAX Team’s GSA Professional Services Schedule, while lowering the risk of a contract award protest.

➤ For urgent requirements, the BPA can be utilized with proposals requested within a 48-hour window.

Contract Administrators* – Any DOE or NNSA Contracting officer may issue a Task Order under this BPA. The table below lists the BPA Administrators that are available for guidance on how to utilize this BPA.
